While we do share Carrie Bradshaw's love of vans uk sale shoes, you won't find boxes and boxes of high heels in our wardrobe. That's because we spend the majority of our week in trainers and we have quite the collection to prove it.

From Adidas Superstars, to Stan Smiths, Nike Roshes and vans uk womens. You name a pair, we've probably owned them at one time or another. But sometimes you just want a new pair of trainers that no one else has, and that's where Vans come in.

Prices start at &#65533;67 for a pair of Classic Slip-Ons and &#65533;75 for a pair of vans uk old skool. Shipping takes 4-6 weeks so we know exactly what we'll be putting on our Christmas list this year.

"She texted back saying they are pink mum, but when she looked at the pic she saw blue too," Coulthard told the publication. "She sent it to me and I was convinced they are pink, we had a big argument as she said I only said pink because I knew she had bought pink vans uk outlet shoes so that's why I decided to put it up on girlsmouth."

This isn't the first time since #DressGate that we've had a social media eye test. Last year there was a bag that appeared vans uk authentic white when it was actually a pale blue, and a white and blue Adidas jacket that looked kind of black and brown. Let's all agree to take better photos of our clothes in 2018, ok?
